

Combined Programs

The increasing complexity of the business world in the context of a globalized market poses unique challenges that underline the necessity of double training in both administration and law. Students with a Bachelor's Degree in another area of study outside law and with an excellent academic record in a Bachelor of Law Degree program may apply for admission to the HEC Montréal MBA program. Students must first sign up for and complete a Bachelor's Degree in Law before applying to our MBA program.